Odd Fellows Plan Big Celebration.

The funeral of William E. Greene was held Friday from his home in Kingston. He died Wednesday afternoon in the Rhode Island hospital as the result of injuries received a week ago when he was struck by the locomotive of a freight train. He was employed as flagman at Kingston and while attempting to flag a passenger train was struck by the locomotive of the freight locomotive. In falling his right hand went on the rail and was crushed by the wheels of the locomotive and was amputated later at the hospital. It was supposed that the only other injury was a severe strain to his back and that he would recover. Complications set in with fatal result. Mr. Greene was 72 years of age. A niece who lives in Stonington is his only known relative.

The funeral of Mrs. Henry Hughes was held Friday with a mass of relatives and friends being in attendance. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased, Mrs. Hughes, who died Wednesday afternoon. Following a high mass of requiem in St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, New London, the body of Michael McCrohan, who died in that city Tuesday, was conveyed to Westerly on the train arriving here at 10:30 Friday morning. A large funeral party accompanied the body and the twelve carriages in waiting were not adequate for the accommodation and thirty men walked from the railway station to Old St. Michael's cemetery where burial was made. The deceased was 57 years of age and was a former resident of Pawcatuck. He was born in Ireland and was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge. He was a carpenter by trade and was well known in the community.

Frank W. Coy, who has been mentioned as a candidate for membership in the Westerly town council, wishes it understood that he is not an actual or implied candidate, and that he would not take the office if he could get it and did not believe he could get it if he wanted it. He said it required all his time to attend to his own business. Speaking of business Mr. Coy said that the firm of Charles Cavanaugh, Michael Fitzgerald, Jeremiah Lyons and Frank McKenna, from the F. L. Allen Hook and Ladder company.

Thodore Francis Greene and Charles Carney Mumford, who were opposing council in the Welling appeal from probate case recently tried in Westerly, were graduated from Brown university in the class of 1913. Mr. Greene is a democrat and Mr. Mumford a republican, the latter resigned from the supreme court bench and the former was a candidate for governor. Both are trustees agreed upon by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company and the United States government for the Rhode Island company.

Loyal Pride of New England Lodge, of Westerly, Independent Order Odd Fellows, Manchester Unity, are planning for a demonstration in Westerly Saturday evening, June 27, when there will be a class initiation and a street parade, the initiation to be by the degree team of Bud of Hope lodge, Providence. The Rhode Island state officers.

NORWICH TOWN

Sugaring-Off in Genuine Vermont Style—Furnishes Diversion at Chapel—Secretary Hill to Address C. E. Society.

The rain Friday evening stopped in time for a good number to gather in the chapel on the green. The tables were attractively laid and the waiters in uniform were most attentive. Pitchers of delicious genuine Vermont maple syrup furnished ample supplies for the sugaring-off under the auspices of the Norwich Town Rural association. The president, Allen Latham, was ably assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Rich L. Allen and everyone had a genuinely good time. To some it was for the first time, to many it recalled the sugar house in the woods, the gathering of sap and boiling down to just the right consistency for wax on the snow. To one present it recalled the grove of sugar maples at William Cullen Bryant's early home in Cummington, Mass., where was every arrangement for making maple sugar by the thousand pounds.

William Latham took tickets at the door. Those serving the boiling syrup on blocks of ice were Miss Natalie F. Allen, Miss Barbara and Emily Latham and Miss Gladys Beebe.

New Bird Arrivals. The crested kingbird has been seen here this week, also during a drive in a nearby town it was seen on a fence post, which is a favorite perch for this bird. It is looking for insects. Their note is shrill and they are always quarreling, especially with crows, and usually they come off victorious.

The black throated green warbler was heard and seen near Bailey's ravine Thursday. Its harsh song would seem to exclude it from the family of warblers. The loud, clear song of the chickadee, a bird of pastures and open woodlands, was also heard Thursday, and the ovenbird, with its "Teacher-Teacher" repeated several times with increasing emphasis.

No Arbutus Found. On a search for arbutus near Gardiner Lake Thursday parties from here found that the roads leading to Stony brook, where it used to be found, have been fenced off. Although no arbutus was found, it was interesting to note that farming in that locality is well advanced, that so many houses have been freshly painted that one could smell the paint, and wonder how it had been done between the showers.

Secretary Hill to Speak. Secretary S. W. Hill of the Y. M. C. A. will address the First Congregational Christian Endeavor society Sunday evening at their service.

Local Interests. Rev. J. F. Cobb and choir of the Church of the Good Shepherd will be at the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon.

Invitations have been received in this neighborhood to the Mt. Holyoke college commencement and to the president's reception June 8.

Taking a drive through Mediterranean lane, who can point at one point a body of water at Bog Meadow an eighth of a mile distant. A new dam has been built which holds the water. Formerly many times no water could be seen at Bog Meadow from that road.

The provisional programme speaks of class reunions and folk dances and songs in the morning, graduating exercises and banquet in the afternoon and evening.

FOREST NOTES. Results from western white pine plantations three seasons or more old show an average of 57 per cent success. On average white pine soil planting can be conducted for from $5 to $8 per acre.

Forest botanists recognize only one cypress in the United States. Its range extends from Delaware southward around the coast into Texas and up the Mississippi valley to Illinois and Indiana. It is one of the few cone-bearing trees which drop their leaves in winter. The heartwood of cypress is noted for its decay-resistant properties.

The Chinese national conservation bureau is considering reforestation at the headwaters of the Yellow River. The government report shows that this will ameliorate the torrents and cause a more regular flow from the now denuded uplands. It is acknowledged, however, that this reforestation may not have an appreciable effect within lifetime of the present generation.

Women control 48 per cent. of the Pennsylvania railroad stock.
